AC-QC design and implement Quality, Environment and Health & Safety Systems and have recently added Lexcel to our portfolio. We use highly qualified Lexcel Consultants who have many years experience within the legal profession. We pride ourselves that our systems are Crystal Clear, lead to genuine business improvements and always result in certification. We agree one fixed fee with our clients and only invoice after certification is completed. Allen Copley is a BSI registered Lead Auditor, a member of the BSI Associate Consultants Program and a Lexcel approved consultant.

As Risk Manager, Client Care and Managing Partner of a city centre practice, I successfully took the firm through the Franchise process, Investors in People and Lexcel. Having qualified in 1977, I have many years experience setting up quality, compliance and risk management systems. I now advise firms nationally on all aspects of quality, professional compliance and risk management, helping many clients achieve the Lexcel accreditation and the lowest possible PI cover. I also lecture widely to the profession and offer training as part of the Lexcel package. Visit my website www.warchester.com and check out clients' testimonials.

We offer a low cost service which is aimed at ensuring clients achieve Lexcel at a pace that is suitable for them. We have helped over 40 firms in the last three years through the Lexcel process and provided consultancy advice to more than 500 other firms. We also regularly provide Lexcel training on behalf of the Law Society. Our Lexcel consultancy practice is managed by Bhavni Shah, formerly a Lexcel Executive with the Law Society. Bhavni was instrumental in devising the Lexcel assessor consistency programme which ensures that the knowledge and application of Lexcel amongst assessors is consistent.

Established more than 12 years ago, we are business consultants specialising in the legal sector. Our Lexcel consultants are graduates with further business qualifications and experience that will enhance your own skill set. We try and make things simple for you. Most of our time is spent helping lawyers with quality management and risk management. Much of the work is done online these days but we will travel anywhere in the world for our clients. We will focus on your business performance, not just box-ticking compliance. See what our clients say about us on our Client Feedback page at www.jt-wconsulting.com.

Mike has extensive experience in the legal profession gained since 1990 when he assisted the Legal Aid Board to achieve ISO 9000 across the organisation. He has subsequently helped many legal firms to achieve Lexcel, the Solicitors Quality Mark, ISO 9001, Investors in People, and also Barmark or Quality Mark for Chambers. His style of consulting is to design individually a management system that reflects how each business operates, whilst still meeting all the Lexcel requirements. He then provides the training, project management and assistance necessary to help the firm to make it happen to a successful conclusion.

Business management and client care matters in a tough and challenging legal sector. OVC works with law service firms to attain and maintain Lexcel or ISO9001 standards, offering practice management expertise and risk management support. Effectively implemented quality standards are a base from which to increase profit, improve service levels, implement efficiency and compete in a challenging climate.

We provide help and offer support through combining the legal knowledge of a practising lawyer who was an equity Partner in a Regional firm, with business management expertise from a Practice Manager of major London law firms.

We are both solicitors, experienced in private practice. We have also both conducted hundreds of monitoring visits to law firms, whilst working for the SRA. Q & C Legal focuses on affordable Lexcel and regulatory support for firms and ABSs. Rebecca lectures and trains widely on OFR, Lexcel and SQM requirements and is an experienced Lexcel assessor. Elaine is uniquely positioned to offer an insight into the new regulatory regime having worked in the SRA's Supervision Unit. We are well placed to offer practical and meaningful advice and to provide your firm with a complete Lexcel and compliance consultancy service.

The Minster Group has presented over two hundred firms for Lexcel assessment and all have succeeded first time. This record results from expert advice, tailored to the size and type of firm, the provision of practical working templates of procedures, and a thorough pre-assessment audit of file management standards. Our fees take into account the size of your firm and how well your existing procedures comply with Lexcel requirements. We ensure that busy Partners receive management procedures that do not consume inordinate amounts of time - practical but effective. Contact us for a free initial diagnostic meeting.
